Biographical Information

James Iley McCord was an educator, clergyman, and ecumenist. He was born in Rusk, Texas in 1919, and earned degrees from Austin College, the University of Texas, and Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. He also received numerous honorary degrees from a diverse range of institutions. McCord became president of Princeton Seminary in 1959 and held this position until 1983. During his tenure, the student body doubled in size and the faculty increased by nearly a third. The Seminary’s campus also expanded with the purchase of property in nearby West Windsor for student housing and the construction of buildings such as the original Erdman Hall. The Center for Theological Inquiry was also established under his administration as an independent institution of theological scholarship modeled on the Institute of Advanced Study. Upon retirement from the presidency in 1983, he became chancellor of the Center until 1989. He died of complications due to Parkinson’s disease at the Princeton Medical Center in 1990.

Scope and Content

Administrative Information

Processing Information

This collection initially consisted of 135 boxes, received by the library in July of 1991 from President McCord's career-long secretary. After Dr. McCord's death, the boxes of materials saved by his secretary were stored together in the basement of a Seminary campus building. The collection was fairly intact when received, although the bottoms of a few boxes had deteriorated during transport and some of the folders were displaced as a result. The materials were left in original order, unless items appeared to be filed inappropriately, in which case they were reordered. Labels are as originated by Dr. McCord or his secretary unless enclosed in parentheses. The labels within parentheses were assigned by the processor. The folders are arranged alphabetically. The dates on the labels were supplied by the processor. An index to correspondence in boxes 61-135 was developed to aid researchers. A print copy of the index is available in the James Iley McCord Manuscript Collection files.

In May 2002 Special Collections received additional files of Dr. McCord from the Office of the President. To preserve original order these additional files were not integrated into the collection, but were rather added to the end of the collection as addendum. The addendum is not indexed with the original collection. This finding aid was edited by Sarah Seraphin and Daved Anthony Schmidt in February of 2009.

Access

There are no special restrictions placed on the accessibility of this collection. It is available for the use of library patrons under the normal rules and conditions of Special Collections.
